

Getting ready for my visit to hospital

Version 2 - Reviewed April 2021

An Easy Read guide to planning for your hospital appointment

Illustrations from The Hospital Communication Book may also be helpful.

Pages from the picture book are free to download and use while you are in hospital.

Go to: www.communicationpeople.co.uk

Before your hospital visit

This booklet will help you get ready for your hospital appointment. Your supporters should read through this booklet with you.

The hospital will send you a letter

Jasmin Baines
16 High Street
Sunnyfield
PT1 1AB

It is important to read this letter with a supporter.

It will have a lot of information about your hospital appointment.

Easy Read hospital appointment letter

Appointment for: John Smith

Hospital

Date for your hospital appointment

 Wed
Wednesday

 Dec
11

 2013

 10:30 am

Wednesday 11th December 2013 10-30am

The appointment is at:

 Central Hospital
High Rd
Newtown
Surrey
GU5 6TF

 01483 4545456

 info@central.nhs.org

Please tell the hospital if you can't come for your appointment on this date
Created at www.surreyhealthaction.org

You can create an Easy Read hospital appointment letter using our free online tool. It's quick and easy to do.

The tool chooses the right pictures for you and puts them in the right place.

You may need your supporter to help you use the tool.

Go to: www.surreyhealthaction.org to use the tool.

Write important information in the boxes below

The name of the hospital:

The department you are going to:

Clinic

The hospital phone number:

The date and time of your appointment:

Acute Liaison Nurses

Many hospitals have a learning disability acute liaison nurse.

They probably don't wear a uniform.

They can give you extra help. They help hospital staff understand your needs.

Phone the hospital to find out if they have a learning disability acute liaison nurse.

Different kinds of appointments

Outpatients appointments.

You will talk to a doctor or a nurse. They may do some tests like blood pressure and blood tests.

Tests and treatments.

This is things like a scan or an X-ray.

Day surgery.

This is when you have an operation in hospital and go home the same day. (Our 'Getting ready for your stay in hospital' factsheet will be useful).

It is important to have consent agreed

Your treatment may not happen if consent is not agreed.

Consent is when you understand about the treatment and agree to have it.

Our factsheet called 'Making choices about your health' explains about consent. Go to www.surreyhealthaction.org to download it.

Visiting the hospital before your appointment

This is a good idea for some people, but not for everyone.
It may make some people feel more confused or worried.

You may be able to visit the hospital before the day of your appointment.

You can look around and meet the hospital staff.

The staff can tell you more about what will happen at your appointment.

You can see the equipment the hospital staff will be using.

It's a good idea to plan to do something nice after your hospital visit.

Finding Easy Read information

There is lots of Easy Read information about going to hospital. There is information about different tests and treatments.

Easy Read information uses easy words and pictures.

The Easy Health website has lots of Easy Read information.

Go to: www.easyhealth.org.uk

Writing a social story

A social story is usually written for one person. It tells the story of your visit to hospital step by step.

A social story can help you to predict what will happen next so you don't feel so worried.

You can use your own photos to make your story personal to you.

Acute liaison nurses and speech and language therapists can write social stories.

To find out more go to: www.thegraycenter.org

Videos clips

www.youtube.com

There are some good video clips of hospital treatments like scans on YouTube.

Reasonable adjustments

Hospitals can make 'reasonable adjustments' to how they do things to make it easier for you. The law says they can do this.

Here are some examples:

Putting you first on the list to be seen if you find waiting very difficult.

Finding you somewhere quiet to wait if you find the waiting room too busy.

Some hospitals use pagers. You can go for a walk and they will beep you when it's your turn to be seen.

Doing all your tests in one day instead of on different days.

This can make things less stressful.

The day of your appointment

Make sure you have everything ready to bring with you on the day of your hospital appointment.

It's best to bring everything in one small bag.

Eating and drinking.

Your letter should tell you if you are allowed to eat or drink before you come to hospital

Make sure you are clean.

Have a bath or a shower the night before or first thing in the morning.

Plan your journey to hospital.

You may need money for the parking machine. Bring coins with you.

When you arrive go to the main reception.

They will tell you how to get to the department you are going to.

Support at the appointment

It's important that you have a supporter who knows you well at your appointment.

Your local acute liaison nurse may also be able to support you at hospital.

If you need to have treatment you will be asked if you agree to it.

Your supporter will help you to understand your choices.

They can help you stay relaxed.

They can help to make sure that you don't miss your name being called out.

They can help you to understand what the hospital staff are explaining.

They can help you explain things too.

They can help you to understand what you need to do after your appointment.

After your appointment

The hospital will tell you if you need someone to stay with you at home after you leave hospital.

The hospital will tell the doctor your results and what will happen next.

Other useful 'Getting Ready' factsheets

Getting ready for my stay in hospital

Useful information about staying in hospital.

Getting ready to go home from hospital

Useful information about being discharged.

Download them free at www.surreyhealthaction.org

Complaints

If you feel you have been treated badly or unfairly you can complain.

Talk to the nurse or the PALS service at the hospital.

Using this booklet

This booklet can be downloaded free of charge from www.surreyhealthaction.org

About Easy Read information

Easy Read information using larger print, easy words and pictures to make information easier to understand. Easy read is a summary of the key points. Whilst it is useful to help people understand complex subjects it should not be relied upon solely in the process of supporting people to make decisions about their health care and treatment,

Developed and designed by The Clear Communication People Ltd as part of a project funded by The Learning Disability Partnership Board in Surrey.

The Clear Communication People Ltd

- Easy Pics imagenbank © The Clear Communication People Ltd
- Some photosymbols used - go to www.photosymbols.com